FOREWORD and ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This is the 3rd and final volume of Williamson County Cemetery listings compiled by the Williamson County Historical Commission during the years 1979 - 1986. In this volume we have attempted to include not only those cemeteries not listed in Volume I (completed 1975) and Volume II (completed 1978), but all other abandoned and/or isolated burial places within the county. This volume also includes a CEMETERY LOCATION MAP for all known burial grounds, copies of which may be obtained from this commission.

Every effort has been made to accurately record the information found in these cemeteries, but the human element involved most certainly insures errors have been made. If the reader can offer positive corrections which can be substantiated, please report them to the librarian, who can promptly make the correction, allowing the original version to remain visible.

Readers and searchers are urged to assist in the preservation of our county burial places. Texas law prohibits the defacing or destruction of any and all Texas cemeteries/burial places, or any part of one, even on private property. Information about damage to cemeteries should be reported promptly to law enforcement officers.

The SUPPLEMENT which is a part of this volume contains additions and corrections to the listings in Volumes I and II.

This volume was prepared with the assistance of many individuals, cemetery associations, churches, entire communities and the Williamson County Genealogical Society, to whom the Williamson County Historical Commission is extremely grateful.

December 16, 1818-March 6, 1893. A native of Louisiana, Elisha ALLEN moved with his parents in 1827 to what is now Orange County. When the Texas Revolution began, Allen joined the army and fought at the Siege of Bexar, Dec. 5-9, 1835. He explored the Texas frontier with a survey party in 1838. In 1849 he married Margaret WOOD; they had 8 children. A Williamson County pioneer, 1850-1870. Allen settled on Indian Creek in Bell County in 1870 and helped build a community church and school house. Recorded 1976.

The cemetery, which was originally near the village of Beyersville is 1½ miles northwest of present Beyersville (the second location to be called Beyersville, and this second one originally called "Happy Hill." The land for this cemetery was given by Gustav Beyer, pioneer settler there. At the original site, besides the cemetery, there was a school, store, gin and houses. In floods, some damage has been done to the cemetery, and numerous other graves are believed to be there.

THE GARNER (?) / EVERTS (?) CEMETERY
 Historical name of cemetery could not be determined.

This small cemetery near Hare has lost at least two of its markers, names unknown, possibly others. It is on the place owned in 1984 by Bennie Paseman just east of Hare. From Hare, go on Farm Road 1331 for .3 mile to the Paseman home. The small cemetery is in a pasture north of this house, near a stock tank, and at two large hackberry trees.

One of the graves is fenced; the other grave markers has fallen over, but is intact and is listed:

Old black cemetery still adding to history of area

By SHARON LEWIS
American-Statesman Staff

The headstones scattered throughout the historic black cemetery just west of Georgetown bear information such as Pleasant Monroe, 1829-1908; Zen Cleo Riding, Sgt. Co. C, World War I, 1897-1963; and Ethel Caldwell, died 1917, age 92.

The above named are among the more than 100 Georgetown citizens — some of them former slaves — buried in what is now called Citizens Memorial Garden off County Road 265.

Harvey Miller is president of the Citizens Memorial Association that is responsible for the upkeep of the cemetery. Miller said that in 1906 the cemetery was willed by the city of Georgetown to the black community for as long as they could maintain it.

Miller said that at the time that the land was willed to the community, cemeteries were segregated. Hispanic citizens are buried at one end of the cemetery, which used to be separated from the black section with a barbed wire fence, he said.

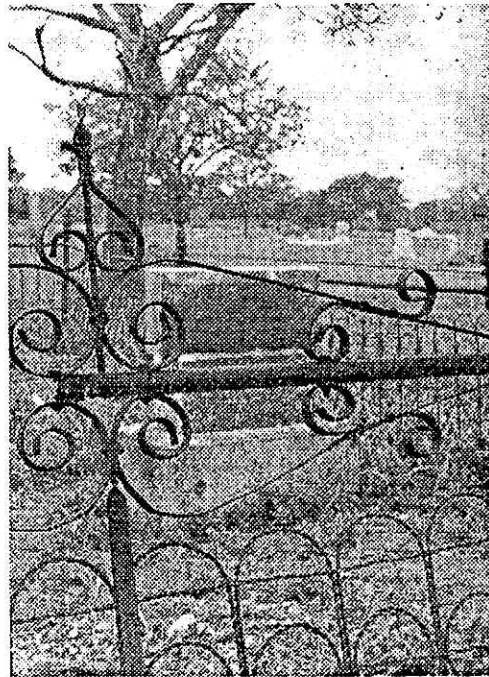

"We're open to anyone who wants to be buried here," Miller said. Plots, which cost $10, are all sold, but more may be created along the fence row, he said.

He said that because Citizens Memorial Garden is nearly full, the association's priority for 1985 will be to acquire property for a new cemetery. He said that if land is donated to the association, the cost of $10 per plot could continue. But if the association has to buy the property, the price of a plot would have to be reconsidered. "We would sell plots at our cost, and try to keep plot costs within the range of what low income families can afford, even if they have to pay for them over time," he said.

The cemetery has been known by various names through the years, including Colored Cemetery and Georgetown Cemetery, Miller said, but primarily as the Masonic Cemetery, Miller said.

The Masons maintained the cemetery from 1906 until 1980, when they gave the Citizens Memorial Association written permission to take on the responsibility of upkeep at the association's request, Miller said.

One of the association's projects is the beautification and restoration of the cemetery, where a burial took place as recently as a month ago, Miller said.

The cemetery west of Georgetown bears witness to history.

Plans include planting a cedar hedge along the back side of the cemetery, and dotting the grounds with more trees, Miller said. The cemetery will be fenced to discourage people from dumping trash there, he said.

Miller said the cemetery should be ready for landscaping in the spring, thanks to the clean-up it is getting from its permanent caretaker who was hired this year with $1,000 assistance from the United Way.

Another project of the association is compiling a registry of the graves in the cemetery. Miller said "most graves were not marked at the time of burial."—Metal markers installed later were pulled up by heavy machinery used to clean the cemetery, Miller said, so he wonders how the location of the graves will be determined.

The next meeting of the Citizens Memorial Association will be Nov. 24. For more information call Tonmie Jefferson at 863-2696.

Guadalupe Cemetery is a spanish cemetery.
It is located in Georgetown park as you come out of the park. Most specific thing that gave me the idea that it is a spanish cemetery was all the people there are spanish people buried there. It is a very beautiful cemetery.
It will be very interesting to see it grow in the future.

HANKS FAMILY CEMETERY

This cemetery is located in Hanks Hollow, near County Road 426 east of Thrall. On Highway 79, travel east of Thrall to County Road 427, turning north on it, and go 2.9 miles to point of its intersection with County Road 426, turning east on that road. Go .3 mile to a point even with a fence row along the edge of the higher ground of the "hollow" and walk north through the pasture about  $\frac{1}{4}$  mile to the small grave site, or get permission of the owner to drive through pasture gates and fields to the site.

A few other graves, no longer with visible markers, are believed to have been there. One large slab lying flat on the ground probably has an inscription underneath it. A legend which has not been confirmed is that some or all of the Hanks family were killed by Indians.

HARGIS FAMILY CEMETERY

(aka MOORE CEMETERY)

The Hargis Cemetery south of Taylor is near Co. R. 453. It consists of 1 acre, fenced, provided by the Hargis family in perpetuity, along with a fund which could still be in a Taylor bank. Ruth Mantor will investigate. The fund was supposed to take care of its upkeep. However, the plot is so overgrown by brambles, brush, shrubs and trees to be impenetrable for surveying. To get there drive south on Highway 95 from Taylor, turn east on co. rd. 453, drive 5.5 mile on 453, then turn south into the gravel drive of Mrs. Lydia Eiben, who owns the farm around this cemetery. Then go to the back of her house through a pasture, .5 mile to the cemetery, which is southwest of the house and near Brushy Creek. Impossible to list Feb. 7, 1984. (City National Bank)

IMMANUEL LUTHERAN CEMETERY

WEST TAYLOR CEMETERY

Exit right off of Highway 79 East on Herman Sons Rd. near Taylor, Texas to Immanuel Lutheran Church. The cemetery is situated directly behind the church. Documentation of this cemetery was done by Mrs. Jean Shreyer and Mrs. Carol Peterson Verbeek of Round Rock, Texas on 1 June 1984. A plot map of the cemetery is kept at the residence of the Church Sexton, Emmanuel Lantzsch of Taylor, Texas. The plot map doesn't necessarily coincide with the layout of the cemetery. The cemetery was originally laid out in sections with eight plots to a section, ie Lot #1, etc.

Ms. Laverne Faubion
Chmn. Wm. Co. Historical Commision
Georgetown, Texas

Dear Ms. Faubion:

Thank you for your letter of appreciation of April 2nd together with the transmittal of the Certificate acknowledging my recent involvement in the erecting of the two State Historical Markers. The latter was an unexpected honor and I've framed it and hung it in my office along with the other certificates and articles of antiquity. I regarded my efforts in this regard both as a "labor of love" and my contribution to perseve area history for posterity.

I think the book may finally be closed when I complete the last of my projects in regard to the Kimbro Family Cemetary. It has taken me this long, battling bureauacy and running down rumors as to the whereabouts and fate of the last of the Kimbro's whom lived and died in this area. I'm referring to Miss Kate Kimbro, E.U.'s daughter, who inherited from her mother, that portion of the farm on which the cemetary is located. I recall Aunt Kate from my youth, when even then she was regarded as something of an strong willed eccentric. But then as such things go she faded from my mind and literally disappeared from the face of the earth. There was only mention of her as "living in Austin" in the obituary of her younger brother Henry T. He is burried in Taylor cemetary on his wifes (Hoke) family plot together with the wife who predeceased him. The rumor trail took me to the Austin State Hospital and to Salado but with negative results there. She was not on her nephews plot in Austin either, nor Potters Field there. Before checking out all the other Austin cemetaryes I had the idea to check the death records beginning with the last year she was reported alive. I couldn't believe my luck when I found her on the first few pages (not well indexed) of the book I was searching. My luck held out further when I was "permitted" to examine the death certificate which showed she died a few months after her brother and more importantly Where (Austin State School) and her age. The latter was a clue as to her birthdate (no births officaly recorded then). So after a number of visits phone calls and letters to MHMR they finally released her birth date to me. Though how they knew this is a mystery and I was hoping there somewhere existed her "family bible". But all I got was Aug. 1862, she died Oct. 23, 1947 Besides wrapping up the records, this was important to me, since I learned she died virtually annomously and unclaimed in a State cemetary, I wished by way of an symbolic reburial, to return her to her family and home. I've located an refinished antique headstone which is also suitably dignified in size and design to be appropriate for this site and there is one space in the rear of her parents for her memorial. I thought the inscription, "Father I've come home." would also be appropriate on the bottom. The reason I'm telling you all of this is, so you can add her to your next updated inventory of County Cemetaryes. The installation, sans fanfare, will probably be completed this month weather and cropland conditions permitting.

Your past words of encouragement were my inspiration. I'm still trying to find some of the missing pieces of Grandfather Bland's Virginia lineage.

Respectfully, Roy

Information obtained by Clara Scarbrough from Mrs. Dora Knauth Walther of Georgetown, August 26, 1985, on the KNAUTH FAMILY CEMETERY in Williamson County:

Theodore Knauth and his wife Henrietta immigrated to America from Germany in the 1880s, arriving by ship in New York and riding the train to Texas and eventually to Georgetown, where Mr. Knauth hired a hack and took his family to see the Schwertner family, also immigrants about that time, who lived at Corn Hill north of Georgetown. After a few days, Mr. Knauth located some available farm land near Corn Hill which he bought in Feb. 1882, and where they lived for some years, eventually moving to another place. They were a young couple and had several small children. One of the children, a six-year old son, Hugo Knauth, had diphtheria and died October 12, 1883. His father built a small pine casket and he was buried on their farm near a clump of trees and a small branch. Within two years, another child, Anna Knauth, who lived only seven days, died/ She was born June 14, 1885. The family descendants do not know whether any markers were placed at the graves, but many years later, after the family had moved away from that first farm, descendants hunted for the location of the burials and were unable to find them. The family kept extensive records, however, and this information is included in a family history which was compiled by Mrs. Dora Knauth Walther.

Burials were approximately 1 mile northeast of the Holy Trinity Catholic Church at Theon.

Located west of Jarrell off Co.Rd.305 on a hill fenced in pasture land.

McRAE FAMILY

This cemetery is on private property southwest of Cedar Park, off CR 182, north side of road, near two residences. Access for listing was denied. Information on additional burials here might be obtained from Mrs. Dorothy McRae Depwe (a descendant), 2508 West Lake Drive, Austin, Texas (1981).

Purchased in 1884 by Isabella Monroe, wife of Murdock McRae, in 1884, this was the McRae family farm. Isabella and Murdock McRae are buried here, dates unknown.

Compiled by Anderson Mill Gardeners, Inc., 1981

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

On June 24 and 26, 1986, the Darrell E. Davis family, 525 Iowa Avenue, Beaumont, Texas 77705, searched for and found this cemetery with the help of a young man who lived in a wooden house on the property owned by the Jamail Properties of Austin. The cemetery is just northeast of the house in the west edge of a densely wooded strip, overgrown with weeds and underbrush. : .

The cemetery is about 100 yards north of CR 182 (Cypress Creek Road). A number of small stones were found without identifying information. One large tombstone reads:

|                     |                         |
|---------------------|-------------------------|
| DANIEL MONROE McRAE | (A Woodman of the World |
| December 22, 1848   | symbol above name)      |
| June 6, 1919        |                         |

There appeared to be evidence that at one time the plot had been fenced.

The young man (Mr. Circo ?) who rents the wooden house and Mr. Clifford Seals who lives nearby in a brick home have the impression that Jamail Properties intend to preserve the cemetery.

This information submitted by Una and Darrell E. Davis.

MEXICAN CEMETERY

Graves of 1921 Flood Drowning Victims

As the result of record-breaking rainfall in September, 1921, a violent flood devastated areas in Williamson County along creeks and rivers, including the San Gabriel River. On September 9 and 10, an unprecedented flood on the San Gabriel drowned a number of Mexican laborers, working in the area near Hare. They were transient (seasonal) laborers, and their names were not known. They had lived in two houses built near the San Gabriel River. Eleven bodies of these men were found and placed in a common grave 1.3 mile west of Hare. Others were believed to have drowned, but the bodies not recovered.

The gravesite is on the farm owned in 1984 by Andrew Anderson, known as the old Bowers farm, 1.3 mile west of Hare. Mr. Anderson marked the grave with a metal cross. The grave is located north of his residence and about three city blocks south of the San Gabriel River.

The coffin for the burial was from lumber retrieved from the flood and collected in the neighborhood of Hare and San Gabriel.

Anna Elise Krieg Stauffer
(first wife of Fritz Stauffer) Lettering on marker is no longer readable.)

(Her marker of ornate cast metal is on the southeast corner of the cemetery near the highway. She was the first person buried in the cemetery, according Mrs. Fritz Wilde, Taylor, Texas, a daughter of Fritz Stauffer by his second wife. Mrs. Wilde does not have a record of Mrs. Anna Elise Krieg Stauffer's birth or death dates.)

Before Anna Elise Krieg Stauffer was buried in this cemetery, sometime prior to 1894, four persons were buried across the road from New Bern Cemetery and to the south, and a short distance west, near where the New Bern Church stood. Sometime after the church was moved to Wuthrich Hill, the graves were lost. Mrs. Wilde does not know who were buried there.

Marker washed away, but known burial at New Bern was:

Samuel Stauffer
b. June 30, 1828
d. Feb. 28, 1917

(This information supplied by Mrs. Fritz Wilde, Taylor, Texas, November 12, 1983. She said the marker was washed away during the 1921 flood, when Dry Turkey Creek rose. This flood also washed away several other markers.)

THE OLIVER CEMETERY

Located on a rise of land just above the flood plane south of Brushy Creek, north of County Road 451, and south of a farm road (gravel) on the Otto Rieger farm, about 2 miles east northeast of the intersection of Farm Road 619 and County Road 451 at the Beyersville community.

The original cemetery was designated by deed of 1 acre of land. Many early graves and headstones were badly damaged. In 1921, J. K. P. Oliver and relatives erected a single monument upon a four-sided pyramid of concrete steps. Upon the four sided stone above the steps were engraved the names and other information on all persons buried in the Oliver Cemetery as known at that time.

The four sides of the marker list:

PATRICK CEMETERY

At one time, the Patrick families owned fifteen to twenty thousand acres east of the Florence Highway. It has been divided and handed down many times during the years. The last of the land owned by Patrick heirs are the children of A. R. and Gertie Hamilton. It is two hundred and eighty-four acres on the Strickland Grove Road. This land is now in the process of being sold.

The old family cemetery is named The Patrick Cemetery. It is located on what is now the 4T Ranch. It is one and a half miles east of the Florence Highway.

The Patrick Cemetery sits on a hill with several trees on it. The size of it is one-hundred and twenty feet. This is about one-half of an acre. It has a netting fence around it with a metal gate. The cemetery is right in the middle of grazing land with cattle roaming all around it.

The cemetery will be ninety-five years old July 30th.

In July, 1883, there was a fever that was very contagious and people were dying from it.

James Menatee Patrick caught this fever. He took some food and water and went out miles away from everyone and put up a tent on this hill on the Patrick land. James Menatee Patrick sat under this big old tree and waited for death to come. The family buried him under the tree. This is how the Patrick cemetery came about.

His tombstone reads: "James Menatee Patrick. Born August 16, 1856. Died July 30, 1883." This grave lies inside a rusty iron fence which is three feet high and is about eight feet square.

There are twenty-two graves in the cemetery. Seventeen of the graves are Patrick relations. Three of the graves are unmarked and unknown to the family. One is a man by the name of Rose who worked on the Patrick land, and the other one was a servant by the name of Miss Mandy. She belonged to Liza Jane James Patrick.

Liza Jane James Patrick was born in Missouri in September, 1855. Liza Jane is believed to be the sister of Jessie James. She would not talk of the family, or family life in Missouri, or permit her picture to be taken. Liza Jane died October 21, 1921.

The deed to the cemetery belongs to Cora Patrick, who lives in Beeville, Texas. She said that when Gertie Hamilton died, she would be buried in the Patrick cemetery, last.

Gertie Hamilton died January 21, 1977, and she was buried on the little hill beside her husband. Her husband's name was A.R. Hamilton. At the time of her death, it was raining and very muddy. The cars slid all over the mud road which leads up to the cemetery.

At this time of the year, the cemetery is grown-up with weeds. There are some armadillo holes with snakes in them, also red bugs and lots of ticks.

RUBARTH CEMETERY

Rubarth Cemetery is located between Circleville and Hare in Williamson County, Texas. It is 7.2 miles east of the intersection of State Highway 95 and FM Road 1331; by following FM 1331 from this intersection, you reach the private driveway to the Roy Bernhardt home on the north side of the road. Drive to the side of the home, through a gap in the rear, then in a northwesterly direction to an old black Jack oak tree, near which the cemetery is located. The cemetery is .5 mile north northwest of the turnoff from FM 1331.

When surveyed by Clara Stearns Scarbrough on October 25, 1980, the headstones were in extremely bad condition. Only one, that of Joseph Rubarth, was not damaged. Considerable restoration is still possible, with a fairly minimal amount of effort and expenditure, but should be attended to with all possible speed.

The cemetery is enclosed by a wrought iron fence, with the exception of two or possibly three graves which are just outside the fence to the southeast side. The cemetery site is at the north edge of prairie flat land, and overlooks the flood plain leading northward toward the San Gabriel River, a short distance away. The site is within a short distance of the Laneport Dam and Granger Lake.

Two graves are marked with the Masonic emblem, one of them being that of Joseph Rubarth. He has the unique distinction of having fought in two very famous battles in two widely separated places: first, at the age of 18, he fought under Marshal Gebhard von Blucher who commanded Prussian troops serving in England and was with von Blucher at the Battle of Waterloo when Napoleon was defeated. The arrival of von Blucher's troops at this battle is credited with helping turn the tide of the battle, which appeared to have been a draw until the Prussions joined the conflict. Rubarth was the son of a well-to-do man in Germany, who gave Joseph as his inheritance a ship and cargo to take where he chose. Joseph Rubarth chose America, set sail in that direction and was shipwrecked off Cape Hatteras. He managed to reach New Orleans eventually, and there his tall, blond, handsome looks so impressed the pirate Jean Lafitte that Lafitte invited him to join his band! Rubarth declined, moved to Texas in 1822. When the Texas Revolution broke out, he joined that army and was present with Sam Houston at the Battle of San Jacinto. He was then 38 years old.

Rubarth received several land grants in Texas for his service with the Army, amounting to more than 5,000 acres, much of it in the area of Beaumont. But he disposed of his holdings there (which became rich oil fields) and, like many other pioneers, moved west. Rubarth settled near the Elm Grove community with his family in 1844. In 1851, Joseph Rubarth helped establish the first Masonic Lodge in Williamson County (that county was established in 1848; in 1844 when Rubarth moved there, it was still Milam County). It was the San Gabriel Masonic Lodge in Georgetown. He died at the age of 60.

Biographical data is from "Some Facts and Information Concerning Pool-Rubarth Families" by George Frederick Pool, Box 396, Hallsville, Texas 75650; also from the files of Clara Stearns Scarbrough, 1318 E. University Avenue, Georgetown, Texas 78626, and from her county history, "Land of Good Water," page 424.

SALYER - MILLARD CEMETERY

Survey Date: 26 June 1986

Surveyed By: Irene Varan, 4129 Granada Drive, Georgetown, TX

Location: From IH-35 north of Georgetown, west on Highway 195 and north on County Road 234. About a quarter of a mile south of County Road 146 there is a crossing over Berry Creek. On the north side of the crossing on the east side of the road is a gate. The cemetery is located on private property about one-half mile east from the gate.

Description: The cemetery is approximately 50 X 100 feet, completely fenced, with a gate on the northwest corner. It contains four small trees. Not too dense with undergrowth, it has the appearance of having had occasional maintenance. Graves are shown on the accompanying sketch where it is apparent that burials were made, however, it appears that some of the old gravesites have been lost.

SANDOVAL CEMETERY

Sandoval Cemetery, near Zion Lutheran Church at Sandoval, is well kept. It is just off County Road 425 about ½ mile east of the intersection of that road with county road 424. Sandoval once had a post office, general store, school, saloon, bowling alley and barber shop, but none of the village is left except rural homes, the church and the cemetery.

HISTORICAL NOTES

St Peters Lutheran Cemetery

The oldest cemetery in the immediate Walburg area is believed to be what is now the cemetery used by St Peters Lutheran Church. The earliest markers (found in the northwest part of the cemetery) date to 1855. It was either used by one of the earliest settlers in Walburg as a family cemetery or by the community as a community cemetery. Many field stones can still be seen as boundary markers for the graves in the northwest part of the cemetery even though we do not know who is buried there.

St Peters Lutheran Church was founded in 1890 and the cemetery was immediately used by members of the congregation and has been in continual use by St Peters ever since.

Zion Evangelical Lutheran Cemetery

Zion Lutheran Church was founded in May 1892 and the first registered burial took place in Zion's cemetery on 21 May 1892. It has been in continual use ever since. The oldest part of the cemetery contains an undetermined number of unmarked graves since some of the earlier markers were destroyed by grass fires or removed to make cleaning much easier.

WENDT FAMILY CEMETERY (out-of-county?) * See note below

The exact location of this cemetery has never been found, and we have not been able to contact person who submitted this listing. Thought to be in the Possoms Springs area within a pasture inaccessible by car, it may well be an out-of-county cemetery. (ed.)

*Mrs. Mozelle Smart Huling of Florence writes that this cemetery is about two miles down the road East of Theon, then about two miles into the pasture (on the right). She did not identify owner of land. She was told one could not drive there, and suggested someone go by horseback (?). No one has made any attempt to do so. L. Faubion 12/31/1985

OLD CITY CEMETERY, TAYLOR, TEXAS

This commission is deeply indebted to the Williamson County Genealogical Society for the inclusion of these indexes, and particularly to Mrs. Ken (Alice) Blakemore, their Vice President, who copied the two books of indexes, and to Mrs. Linda Emry, Editor of their quarterly, THE CHISHOLM TRAIL, who alphabetized the indexes. The Plot Map furnished by Alice is also invaluable.

As we understand it, the books are not officially numbered Book 1 and Book 2. The first book contains burials in the old section, plots 1 - 20, plus 33 and 34; the second book contains burials in the new section, plots 21 - 39, and A - X. Plots 1 - 6, plus M and N on north side is the Black Cemetery, and the index for this area follows the indexes entitled "Book 1" and "Book 2."

In order to save time and space, the names on these indexes have not been included in the general SURNAME INDEX, therefore the searcher should be sure to check both sources.

For additional information on burials in the OLD CITY CEMETERY, TAYLOR, please follow the instructions given on page 255.

SLOAN-EASLEY CEMETERY
(See Vol. I, p. 291)

Note for the Sloan-Easley Cemetery, already listed:

Samuel Allen Easley, b. July 2, 1851, died April 26, 1933. The Cemetery listing gives 1932. This was questioned by someone who saw the Commission's listing, but not changed. I do not know whether the tombstone reads 1933 or 1932, but I looked at the Williamson County Sun for April 28, 1933, and find his obituary in that issue.

Therefore, I believe it is sufficiently established that 1933 is the correct date, and the record could be so amended, if you think that is proper.

Areas E, F, G and H are the oldest sections of the cemetery. The grave sites are not lined up in parallel rows. We have tried to list these in a way that will make it easier to locate a particular grave site. The listing begins next to the fence and adjacent to area A. Each new grouping begins again with a grave adjacent to area A or B.
